RECOGNIZING EXCELLENCE IN LANDSCAPE ARCHITECTURE

The BSLA seeks to recognize excellence in the diverse practices of our members. To that end, all members are encouraged to submit their best work for review by the program jury. Projects should reflect the careful stewardship, wise planning, and artful design of our cultural and natural environment, demonstrate excellence and merit recognition in one or more of the following areas:

- Exemplary Social, Cultural, Educational, or Environmental Significance
- Outstanding Quality, Craftsmanship, Creativity, or Artistry
- Unique and Innovative Technologies, Techniques, or Concepts
- Advancement of the Public's Awareness and Perception of the Field of Landscape Architecture

Award of Excellence: Each year the combined Design and Planning Juries may select one entry that represents an outstanding advancement or contribution to the profession of landscape architecture.

Honor Award: The highest award in each category. Multiple Honor Awards may be given in each category.

Merit Award: An award recognizing superior professional accomplishment. Multiple Merit awards may be given in each category.

Student Award of Excellence: Each year the Juries may select one Student entry that represents an outstanding project by a member Student. This award includes a $300 grant.

Student Honor and Merit Awards: analogous to the professional awards, but recognizing accomplishment achieved within an educational setting.

LANDSCAPE ANALYSIS AND PLANNING CATEGORY:

This category is for all master-planning and other non-constructed non-site specific work and recognizes the wide variety of professional activities that lead to, guide, and evaluate landscape architecture design. Professional and Student entries in this category are not required to be built or implemented.

Typical entries include: Master planning of projects anticipated to be built in the future; urban, suburban, rural, or regional planning efforts and/or development guidelines; transportation planning, town planning, or campus planning; plans for recovery or reclamation of brownfield sites; environmental planning in relation to legislative or policy initiatives or regulatory controls; cultural resource reports; cultural and natural resources protection, conservation, or historic preservation planning.

Criteria: The jury will consider the quality of the analysis and planning effort; planning context and the application of local or regional characteristics; environmental sensitivity and sustainability; likelihood of successful implementation; and demonstration of design value to the client, the public, and other designers.

Entrants in this category should pay particular attention to submitting information on both the analysis and planning of the project, not one or the other of these aspects.

ENTRY ELIGIBILITY:

The Boston Society of Landscape Architects Awards program is open to submittals of work by New England-based landscape architectural practitioners and students. Individuals, firms, project owners, public agencies, organizations, or other entities may submit as long as the project's creative team includes a registered landscape architect, a graduate of a landscape architecture program, a faculty member of a landscape architecture program, or a student enrolled in an accredited landscape architecture program.
